Birding, Trinidad and Tobago

The first time I went birding to Trinidad & Tobago it was because I had become a friend, through mutual friends in the UK of probably the best known bird guide on Tobago, Newton George. When I walked out of arrivals he greeted me with the words "Hello Man - Welcome to the capital of paradise" - and that sums up this fantastic, friendly, beautiful Island nation. The climate is wonderful & the wildlife even better. This evening I'll show you some of the spectacular birds & taste of sunshine in the Caribbean.
